TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

EX-GOVERNOR MOREHOUSE
COMMITTS SUICIDE.

The Ex-Governor of Missouri, While Laboring Under Mental Delirium, Saves the Jugular Vein
With a Pocket Knife.

St. Joseph, Sept. 24.—Ex-Governor Albert P. Morehouse committed suicide at Maryville, his home, between 10 and 11 o'clock this forenoon.

The governor had for a week, at times, been in a delirious condition, which it was believed, was occasioned by his becoming overheated one day last week while driving cattle. Last evening he was driving with Hon. W. C. Ellison thinking that a little drive would do him good. After driving a short time, Mr. Ellison noticed a violent nervous disarrangement on the part of the governor, manifested by the twitching of the muscles of the body and also by his seizing and holding tightly to the bow of the buggy top. Mr. Ellison made efforts to divert the governor's mind from his condition, but with no effect whatever. He at last concluded that it would be best to take him back to his residence and summon a physician, which was done after about fifteen minutes' ride.

On arriving at the house, Mr. Ellison called to S. W. Briggs, a neighbor, and requested him to watch with the governor while he went as a doctor. Mr. C. D. Keck, Mr. Ellison remained with the governor until about 10 o'clock last night, when S. W. Briggs and James Andrews arrived. As watchers by his bedside they noticed nothing unusual during the night. This morning the governor continued in a peaceful sleep and he was left in his room alone and undisturbed. The watchers at 9:30 o'clock, heard an unusual noise in the governor's room—a sort of gurgling. Hurry-ing into the room, they found the governor lying on the floor in a pool of blood, with a gash in his throat about four inches long, extending from two inches below the left ear to the larynx. As the watchers entered he breathed his last. In his right hand was a common pocketknife covered with blood. With this he had committed the deed.

The governor's daughter Nanina and his son, New were the only members of the family at home when the deed was committed.

Morehouse's Career.

Ex-Governor Morehouse was born in Delaware county, O., July 19, 1825. He was therefore 65 years old at the time of his death. His parents were both natives of Ohio and his mother's parents were among the early settlers of the state. The early part of his life was spent on a farm and in gaining a substantial education. After finishing his schooling he branched out as a teacher, and at 18 years of age was one of the most successful instructors in his native county.

In 1850 his father, Judge Stephen Morehouse, moved with his family to Noda-way county, Mo., where the family has since lived.

He practiced law with moderate success for about a year, when he accepted an appointment as first lieutenant of Colonel Kimball's regiment of enrolled Union militia.

Real estate in 1871 gave promise of big returns, and he again abandoned his profession. He was a partner with Senator M. G. Roseberry and established an office at Maryville.

Politically, Mr. Morehouse figured very prominently since 1872, when he was a delegate from Missouri to the national Democratic convention in Baltimore.
At the general election of 1884, Mr. Morehouse was elected lieutenant governor of Missouri on the Democratic ticket, on the same ticket the late John S. Marmaduke was elected governor. Governor Marmaduke died suddenly and Lieutenant Governor Morehouse succeeded him by virtue of his position. At the general election in the fall of 1888, David H. Francis was elected governor of Missouri to succeed Mr. Morehouse.

Mr. Morehouse leaves a wife and three children—two grown daughters, Miss Nanina and Miss Anna, and a son, Edward, 17 years old. Mrs. Morehouse is an accomplished Southern lady.

The Extra Session a Failure.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 23.—The extra session of the Tennessee general assembly adjourned yesterday, after a twenty days' sitting. Outside of the apportionment bill, by which the Democrats gain several seats in both houses, and the adoption of some local laws, the session has not been fruitful of important results. The convict lease system and the question of arranging for the building of a new penitentiary were left in statu quo, owing to the stubbornness of both houses.
The people generally look upon the work of the session as a failure.

Three Men Buried in a Mine.

MARQUETTE, Mich., Sept. 23.—Peter Follette, John Gilbert and Eric Jarvola were taking down two pillars of ore directly over the mouth of No. 6 shaft at the Republic mine this morning when the ground gave way beneath them. Another cave covered them and it will be perhaps weeks before the bodies can be recovered.

French Trade.

PARIS, Sept. 18.—The returns issued by the French board of trade show that during the month of August the imports decreased 10,450,000 francs and the exports decreased 13,108,000 francs, as compared with the corresponding month last year.

PROUD BUT FALLEN MAN.

BALMACEA'S LAST LETTER TO THE ARGENTINE MINISTER.

Pathetic Utterances of the Haughty but Overthrown Dictator—No Hope of Justice at the Hands of the Junta.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 24.—The following is the complete text of the letter written by Balmaceda to the minister of the Argentine Republic the night before he killed himself:

SANTIAGO, September 19.—My Dear Sir and Friend: In conformity with what we have previously said, and as you well know, I must give a solution to the situation in which I am placed, and ought not to prolong any further the anxiety which, in eventful moments you have so generously given me, and which I recommend to my family as the greatest service I have received in my life. The exasperation of my enemies renders them liable, should my residence be found out, to go to extremes which I should prefer to the greatest sacrifice a courageous man can make. You know I have scorned vulgar evasion, deeming it unworthy of a man who has ruled over the destinies of Chileans, and more so to excuse the acts of triumphant revolution. I had decided, therefore, of my own volition, to place myself in the hands of the Junta de Gobierno, hoping that the constitution and the laws would in the end prevail and protect every one. However, with all the chiefs and officers in the army, all the Senators and Representatives, the municipalities, the judiciary, the public functionaries in all branches of service accused and brought to trial, prisoners or fugitives, and myself, who alone am responsible before Congress, dragged to justice, as represented by special judges and partisans of the revolution, to answer for our persons and property for all we have done as a Government, as if we had not constituted a Government, wanton arbitrariness has been established in such a manner that I have lost all hope that justice would be afforded.

Seeing that the spirit and tendencies of the revolution have been made into a government, I do not seek further to problem, as I feel that I can no longer do or else to accept the sacrifice. Would to God that the latter sacrifice would lessen the persecutions of my friends by those who think that in this way they can humiliate and wound me more keenly.
May God have mercy on the souls of the deceased, and may the Junta de Gobierno down by the blows of misfortune. I bless you and your virtuous wife, and I hope that my children will also bless you. Tell Arrieta—he is good and stays near my kindred—to perform the last merciful services without ceremony or any following. May you and your wife and children be ever happy. Yours, J. M. BALMACEA.

P. S.—Please comply with the intimate affair of honor I recommended to you last night toward the person you know as "Val."

Attached to this letter there was another brief postscript calling attention to the fact that other letters would be found addressed to his wife and his mother, and requesting that they be delivered to them.
These letters simply contain the unfortunate man's farewell to his wife and his mother.

THE RUSSIAN FAMINE.

The Mass of the People Relying Upon the Government to Help Them.

St. PETERSBURG, Sept. 23.—Reports received here from Tambov and its adjacent provinces announce that the Zemstvos have provided for the resowing of the land and to furnish supplies of grain until January next. After that date there will be the greatest difficulty to secure food for the people.

The scarcity of oats and hay is compelling the farmers to sell their live stock at mock prices—for instance, a horse for 2 roubles, a cow for 5 roubles and colts for from 30 to 35 copecks.

After a recent county fair in a district the skeletons of forty horses were found by the roadside. The animals had been killed for their skins.

Destitution is also staring in the face a large number of people who have been employed upon public works as work on the latter must stop when the frosts set in.

The masses of the people rely entirely upon the government to help them. This being the state of affairs in the present mild weather the gloomy prospect in winter can be readily imagined.

At a meeting of the authorities of Saratoff it was decided to petition the imperial government to prohibit the exportation of oats and millet, as well as that of rye.

A Justice in Dire Distress.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 22.—Forfeiture of office, thirty days in jail and a fine of $50, besides costs and lawyers' fees, is what it cost Justice John L. Ganshous to go on one little spree August 18 last.

Judge White rendered his decision in the criminal case this morning on the count charging Ganshous with drunkenness in office on the date mentioned. After reviewing the law and the evidence in the case Judge White concludes "I must find the defendant guilty as charged in the first count of the information. Punishment will be assessed at thirty days in the county jail and the fine of $50. Execution with capias clause will issue immediately. And further it will be adjudged that the defendant has forfeited his office and that such office is vacant."

TO GIVE JOHN A SCARE.

Four Powers May Make a Naval Demonstration in Chinese Waters.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—A special cable dispatch from Rome says the Tribuna announces that England, Italy, Germany and the United States have decided to make a naval demonstration in Chinese waters, and that the command of the combined fleet will be given to the duke of Genoa.
This, it is said, will result in the non-intervention of France and Russia. The visit of the duke of Genoa to England is said to be for the purpose of conferring with the British government on the subject.

Joe Smith Returns.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Sept. 24.—Joseph F. Smith returned to Salt Lake City yesterday after his long exile here. When asked about his exile he said: "When the indictment was found I was in Idaho in charge of certain church records which the United States authorities were trying to gain possession of. I at once left the country, going to the Sandwich Islands, where I remained two years engaged in missionary work. When my pardon was signed I was in California, and started at once for Utah, and have for two weeks been in the Cache Valley. I have accepted the anti-polygamy manifesto and believe that polygamy is dead forever."
